Information about the town and/or neighborhood	Alcalá de Guadaíra is a town located in Seville, Andalusia, in the south of Spain. It has 75000 inhabitants, and it is near the capital, Seville, just about 15 kilometers. Its location is perfect to visit nearby towns as Carmona, Osuna, and many others touristic places where you can learn about our culture and also enjoy our excellent gastronomy. The weather is fantastic, warm and sunny most of the year, and slightly cold or rainy in winter. Alcalá has been really famous throughout history because of its bread and the mills used for its elaboration; in fact, some of

	them are still found nearby the river Guadaíra. The pipeclay (albero), a golden Andalusian-type sand, is another symbol of our town. Its impressive castle, with outstanding views of all the town, dates from Arabian times. You can visit it or walk along the beautiful Oromana park, a great place to enjoy nature. The Dragon Bridge is another must if you come to Alcalá. To know more about our town, here you have some videos: https://youtu.be/0CzYte_xOY4 https://youtu.be/cFGyFrosnos
Getting to school	You can use public transport like taxis or buses. If you live in Seville, there's a line called M-121 and M-122 (CASAL BUS) which is the cheapest way to get to Alcalá . Here you have more information about it: https://www.autocarescasal.com/autobuses-lineas-regulares-presentacion If you live in Alcalá, the buses available are these: http://busalcala.com/lineas-y-rutas
Accommodation	The best option is to share a flat or rent a room, since the prices are usually high. You can look for in different web pages like www.idealista.com, www.fotocasa.com, www.milanuncios.com
